

HOMETOWN HEROES

MEMORIAL DAY TO LABOR DAY

presented by

THEIR FAMILIES

and

THE TOWN OF KILMARNOCK

TO KILMARNOCK AND OUR
HOMETOWN HEROES BANNER PROGRAM

On behalf of the Kilmarnock Town Council and myself, we hope you will enjoy these tributes to the men and women who contributed so much with their service to our country. They are from our immediate area but also from across this great country of ours and now we proudly showcase them in Kilmarnock. While many have passed away, others are living here in our community.

This idea came to us from Laura Stoddard who saw this concept in Canada and thought we could and should do something similar. Laura, we thank you. To all the families who generously brought in their pictures and stories, please accept our gratitude and that of everyone who views these banners.

With warmest regards,

Mayor Mae P. Umphlett

JAMES P. McARDLE

James entered the Army in 1942 as part of the 106th Infantry, 424th regiment.

The 424th was part of the defense of St. Vith, Belgium against a much larger force of Germans. The defense of St. Vith (December 17-21 1944) has been credited with ruining the German timetable to reach port city of Antwerp, one of their main objectives. St Vith was surrounded by German Forces and shelled for three days/nights in zero degree temperatures and over a foot of snow. After St. Vith, the 424th was attached to the Seventh Armored Division and fought another major battle at Manhay. Other offensive and defensive patrols occurred through March 1945 with the 424th reaching the Rhine River. Discharged in November 1945 at Fort Devans, MA. Presented by his son, (a Vietnam veteran and actively involved with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary), Brian McArdle.

JAMES H. TURNER, SR.

Private Turner was born in Appomattox, VA, in 1896. He enlisted in the U.S. Army on March 29, 1918, at Bedford, VA. He shipped to France during WWI to serve on the front lines as a trench runner. Clearly identifiable—at least in daylight—by the red arm-bands fixed around their left forearm, trench runners bore messages from one area of a command unit to another, and qualified runners would be expected to closely familiarize themselves with areas of the front line into which a battalion would soon enter, generally so as to relieve the line's present occupants. Runners had to excel in map-reading and at reconnaissance. Speed and accuracy were essential in ensuring that the relieving forces were in place before daylight; in short, before the enemy force could catch troops in the open with artillery fire. He sailed back via the M.S.S. Maui from France April 1919 and honorably discharged at Camp Lee, VA, on March 31, 1919. Presented by his granddaughter, Amy Lewis.

GEORGE WILLIAM URBAN, JR.

GM2 George enlisted on July 4, 1942, in Baltimore. After training as a Gunner's Mate, in 1943, he reported to LCI-177 (Landing Craft, Infantry) in New Guinea as ship's Gunner's Mate where he participated in several landings. In 1944, George returned to the U.S. where he reported aboard LCI(L)-773 (Landing Craft Infantry (Large) and returned to New Guinea. LCI(L)-773 put troops ashore in the Leyte Gulf area. They were in Manila Bay, the Philippines when the atomic bombs were dropped on Japan. All the ships blew their whistles when the second bomb was dropped and the war ended. On LCI(L)-773, one day George received a set of barber tools. He learned how to cut hair from a shipmate, and that's how George began his lifelong vocation as a barber!
